How much do UX designers earn in 2022?

The most concerning thought after choosing to pursue a certain career path is the question of will I be able to sustain life with the amount of income I get from working this particular job. That answer can depend on many factors.

Variables affecting UX designers salary

When it comes to UX designers the amount that is earned will vary depending on different variables. These variables differ as time goes on but as of 2022 these are the major ones.

1) Experience

It is assumed that the more experience you have the more skills you possess which in turn will result in a higher pay. Experience is known to be associated with one's ability to work as a team and better grasp of the material at hand. Employers are very adamant about the job since the job requires you to work with the developers and other teams .

Entry-level UX Designers

These are the UX designers that have just graduated or have decided to join the industry with no prior professional skill. The average annual salary at this level can be around $91,534 / per year.

Junior UX Designers

These are designers that have experience working in the designing industry. Their experience in the field is usually around 3 to 5 years. The average annual salary is estimated to be around $102,824 /yr.

Senior UX Designers

These are professionals that have worked in the industry for 15 years and above. The average annual salary at this level is $146,343 per year.

2) Skill

Learning UX designing skills plays a big role in the amount of salary a UX designer gets. Knowing the technical skills like prototyping, wireframing, mockups and also the soft skills of being collaborative, good communicator and presentation skills will have an effect on the amount of money a UX designer gets.

3) Role

UX designers have a team that will specialize on a specific task. Depending on the role/specialization the salary will vary. Amongst the many roles a UX designer can have some are

UX Designer

The UX designer's role is to make a product or service usable, enjoyable and accessible to the end user. The user experience designer makes about an estimate of $91,534 per year.

UX Researcher

The UX researcher as the name suggests works to gather detailed information through research. By using the means of interviewing the end user, usability testing and daily studies the researcher is able to collect and evaluate both qualitative and quantitative data systematically. A UX researcher makes $94,597 per year.

UX Writer

A UX writer plans and writes copies for applications, websites and other digital products to help the user navigate the product. They make about 73,011 dollars per year.

UX Engineer

The UX engineer deals with the front end of digital products, the parts the end user interacts with. The salary of a UX engineer is about $117,813 per year.

Product Designer

Product designers are in charge of the entire product creation process. They are ultimately responsible for discovering and defining a problem, and then empathically designing a solution. The estimate of a product designers salary is about 82,006 dollars per year.

4) Location

Depending on the general area the designer resides in, the salary varies. These days there's an option of also working remotely. It is no surprise when the highest paid UX designers are usually from the more developed countries.

Country	Salary per year
US	$91,534
UK	£48,755
UAE	AED 25,000
Union City, CA	$92,898
Union, NJ	$87,763

5) Demand

With the recent bloom of technology and everyone wanting to digitize their system UX designers are very much needed. It is one of the many requirements of designing a system that user experience is well thought out before the production.

And other factors like negotiation skills, credentials like a degree or certificate and the place that employs the designer also play a role.
